Dedication

The class of 2014 dedicates this yearbook to Mr. Goldberg, who is retiring after 30 years at Georgetown High School. Thank you Mr. Goldberg for your commitment to our school, for your passion for sharing knowledge of English, Journalism, Mythology, Creative Writing and all the other classes you've taught. We are grateful for you helping us become the best we can be. Best wishes, Mr. Goldberg.

Mr. Goldberg has influenced my writing in a positive way, his interactive personality will travel with me in the future. - Haley Murphy

The only teacher who could make you laugh at yourself and your own mistakes. His teaching made you feel comfortable with who you are and allowed you to see the brighter side in every situation. He made every class enjoyable and engaging. -Brynn Beaudoin

His teaching style is unique, he engages the entire class in a conversation that allows his students to learn through each other, his honesty is refreshing and enables students to improve themselves personally and academically. -- JohnMax Howland

Mr. Goldberg is one of the finest educators that I have ever had the privilege to work with. During his long tenure as an English teacher at GHS, he has demonstrated a level of caring and concern for his students that is second to none. His expertise in all areas of the curriculum has paved the way for many of our graduates to highly succeed at the college level.

Dating back to the 80's, Mr. Goldberg has been a strong and consistent supporter of our athletic programs. He has given countless hours of his time towards attending games, coordinating intramurals, and counseling athletes.

Not only has Mr. Goldberg been a wonderful colleague, he has also been a true friend to me and my family. His thoughtfulness and generosity extend well beyond the scope of the school environment, and we consider ourselves very lucky.

No matter what future endeavor Mr. Goldberg decides to pursue, there is no doubt that it will be with the same passion and dedication that he exhibited during his long and successful career here in Georgetown.

From the Desk of the Editors...

Yo yo yo, this is your yearbook editors coming at you live from Mrs. Dodge's media lab. As we wrap up what could be the most work any of us have put into anything, we would like to thank Mrs. Dodge for all her work on this yearbook. Without her this book would just be Marek Nowak's photos and some pictures off of Instagram with a lot of words trying to describe our final year here at GHS. This book would be nothing without her and we would like to thank her for picking up everything that seemed boring or unimportant to us. She has given up countless hours of her own time to crop photos and to organize pages and for that we cannot thank you enough Mrs. Dodge.

On another note we have put our heart and soul into this book. We have tried to incorporate all aspects of our school to make you feel like this book is for you. We hope as you flip through these pages now that you reminisce on the great times that we've had through this year and we hope when you flip through this book when you're 40 that you will remember the moments from high school that mean most to you. Our goal of this book was for you to look back on this and laugh at all the funny and wild times we've had as a class. From your 2013-2014 yearbook editors we would like to wish you the best of luck in your future and we hope you like the yearbook as much as we liked making it for you.

Have patience with everything that remains unsolved in your heart. Try to love the questions themselves, like locked rooms and like books written in a foreign language. Do not now look for the answers. They cannot now be given to you because you could not live them. It is a question of experiencing everything. At present you need to live the question. Perhaps you will gradually, without even noticing it, find yourself experiencing the answer, some distant day." - Rainer Maria Rilke, Letters to a Young Poet

I think that this year has been very different from the rest of my school years. With the whole process of college and applications it has made me realize how close real life is. It's so crazy to think about finally being a senior! I thought it was so much further away but now that it's here it still feels a bit crazy! To all my dearest friends, better watch out because it's right under your noses!

I want to thank my family: Mom and Dad and Peter. You have all helped me so much along the way and guided me with any help with anything to get this far. I may not show it all the time but I love you to death and would do basically anything for you guys <3

To all my friends who I have met along the way THANK YOU! Without any of you guys I have no idea who I would be and what I'd be doing today. You all mean the world to me and for those who have that special place in my heart you know who you are and I'll never forget any of you <3 I'll make sure we can always keep in touch even though I may be far.

Look, here I am. I've had a great time throughout my school career. Even though middle school was as awful as getting kicked in the sternum, high school was pretty cool. To all my friends: I have never had a better four years in my life, and I have never had more fun than spending high school with you. From all the sleepovers, to sports, and just enjoying everyday like it's our last. I will never forget the people that helped shape who I am today. I'm sad we are going separate ways, but I know we will be friends forever. I wish you all guys luck with whatever you do.

To My Neighbors: You guys were my first friends, and some of the best people I have ever had the pleasure of knowing. I can't wait till we all grow up and can look back at how fun it was to be a kid.

My John: I'm so grateful to have a best friend and boyfriend as incredible as you. Mom, Dad, and Mark: Thank you for giving me everything I could have possibly needed whether it was company while working on a late night project, life advice and know-how, or random and weird conversations at 2am. I know I'll always be able to rely on you guys.
As for my friends, all of you have made those Monday mornings bearable and I thank you for that.

Is this gonna be on the test? - Yeah, about the test: The test will measure whether you are an informed, engaged, and productive citizen of the world, and it will take place in schools and bars and hospitals and dorm rooms and in places of worship. You will be tested on first dates, in job interviews, while watching football, and while scrolling through your Twitter feed. The test will judge your ability to think about things other than celebrity marriages, whether you'll be easily persuaded by empty political rhetoric, and whether you'll be able to place your life and your community in a broader context. The test will last your entire life, and it will be comprised of the millions of decisions that, when taken together, will make your life yours. And everything, everything, will be on it.

"You get in life what you have the courage to ask for."

Allison O'Grady

We have traveled a lot of ground together over the past 18 years— from tot to teen and from coast to coast. From the braids, braces, and hooded sweatshirt days through the classic fashionista with the beautiful eyes and the fabulous shoes! From San Francisco to Monterey, Chicago, Toronto and all the places we have stopped along the way. There have been roadblocks, bumps, challenges and red eyes. And sometimes we even lost our way for a bit. But I have had a helluva time on this journey with you and I am so proud to see where you are today. I can't wait for the next million miles! "Something's coming, something good, if I can wait! Something's coming, I don't know what it is, But it is gonna be great!"

Love, Mom

Patrick Bjork

Congrats Patrick Bjork!!

Daniel Manning

Another turning point
A fork stuck in the road
Time grabs you by the wrist
Directs you where to go

So make the best of this test
And don't ask why
It's not a question
But a lesson learned in time

It's something unpredictable
But in the end it's right
I hope you had the time of your life

So take the photographs
And still frames in your mind
Hang it on a shelf
In good health and good time

Tattoos of memories
And dead skin on trial
For what it's worth
It was worth all the while
-Green Day

Daniel,
